On motion of Thomas A. Hendricks Cleveland's nomination was made men in the Republican circus at the grizzly bear.

He was nominated by both conventions. The sharpest, shrewdest of them all is the "red fox."

There was a number of patriotic gentlemen in the Republican Congressional Convention at Jonesboro last Thursday who wore lightening rods on their hats, expecting to be struck. But it didn't strike. Poor Brownlow!

It was enough to make the Repub-Hean party weep to see Tom Reeves bolt last Thursday. Yes sir, bolt. This is the first time the retired colonel has bolted since he bolted from the Democratic party a few years ago. The court house door was not unbolt ed in time to suit Tom, so Tom bolted.
